Foreword

This "Fiesta Show" marks the forty-second open-door exhibition for New Mexico painters and sculptors held by the Museum of New Mexico and maintains one of the original premises on which the Museum's Fine Arts Program was founded – that the Art Gallery should provide a place for the showing of the work of New Mexico artists on a completely democratic plan, without selection or rejection by an art jury.

To provide a rounded program of shows, the Gallery also holds an "Annual Exhibition for New Mexico Artists" – a prestige show which follows the "jury" plan – and an annual "Exhibition of the Graphic Arts in New Mexico" – a competitive show on the open-door plan.

As an added exhibition service for New Mexico artists, the Gallery, beginning on October 1, will double the space used for its monthly alcove shows, by devoting both the north and east galleries to this purpose – the north gallery on an open-door system and the east gallery by invitation.

Among the 163 entries listed herein are works in all contemporary styles, of all levels of competence, from all parts of the state. Of the centers represented, Santa Fe leads with 69 works, followed by Albuquerque with 40 and Taos with 10. Other places represented with three or more entries include Roswell, Los Alamos, Las Cruces and Las Vegas. The overall impression to the viewer of the show will doubtless be a feeling that a large share of the work is that of "avocational artists".
